RESILIENT 100 SHOWCASE
Refugee Investment Network appreciates Silver Lining and the donors of the Impact5X program for their generous support of Resilient 100, which has focused on increasing success and investor readiness for refugee-led and refugee-supporting small businesses globally for the past year.

Most importantly, we would like to thank the Resilient 100 entrepreneurs for their engagement throughout the program and their input towards this publication. We are grateful to have you all as part of the RIN community. We also appreciate the dedication of the mentors working with the Resilient 100 community of entrepreneurs.

We would also like to thank Mikaela Rabb for leading the creation of this publication, as well as Meredith Husar for her support on design and communications.

To learn more about RIN’s entrepreneurship programs and explore partnership opportunities, please contact RIN’s Entrepreneurship Lead Selen Ucak at selen.ucak@refugeeinvestments.org, or send inquiries and comments to info@refugeeinvestments.org.

Data have been provided by participating entrepreneurs as of August-October 2022.
With more than 100 million people forcibly displaced worldwide, the current trend of forced displacement is the defining social crisis of our time. Refugees face serious challenges, often stemming from underinvestment and restrictive labor laws. Yet the data show they have enormous untapped potential: refugees are resilient, entrepreneurial, and investable.

The Refugee Investment Network (RIN) is the first impact investing and blended finance collaborative dedicated to creating durable solutions to global forced migration. RIN is building the investment ecosystem for refugee-led and supporting ventures through delivering partnerships, advisory programs, education, and financing mechanisms.

REFUGEE LENS INVESTING

RIN developed the Refugee Lens as an investing framework to qualify and track investments over time and to respond to the question: “What is a refugee investment?” This tool provides investors with a lens to assess and qualify prospective and historical deals as refugee investments. An investment must meet the criteria of at least one of the following categories to be included as a refugee lens investment:

Enterprise is at least:
A. 51% Refugee-Owned; OR
B. 20% Refugee-Owned and have at least one refugee listed as a “key person” in operating documents

Enterprise has:
A. At least one refugee in senior management (e.g., CEO, CFO or COO); OR
B. A board with at least 33% refugee representation.

A project that provides a good or service that supports humanitarian efforts or intentionally supports refugees by providing infrastructure, jobs (a commitment of at least 20% of workforce), skills, products, or services to refugees that demonstrably improve the quality of refugee self-reliance, resiliency, health, education, or inclusion in financial markets.

Projects can also qualify as:
- R4: Refugee-Supporting, Host-weighted
- R5: A Refugee Lending Facility
- R6: Refugee Funds

For the purposes of this investor framework, the term “refugee” refers to an inclusive group of people who are externally or internally forcibly displaced, whether through armed or political conflict, ethnic tension, systematic discrimination, climate change or natural disaster, or the displacement of indigenous communities.
RESILIENT 100

Through RIN’s Resilient 100 program – in partnership with Silver Lining Ltd., a data-driven company providing small business support – over 70 refugee-led and refugee-supporting companies from all over the world are receiving virtual business coaching rooted in behavior-change science, investment readiness support, and networking opportunities.

Over half of the participating companies are owned or led directly by refugees. Most are located in East Africa and Middle East & North Africa, with more than 10 based in a refugee camp or settlement.

Participating businesses represent a range of sectors, including fashion and design, food and beverage, education, and agriculture. A quarter of businesses are leveraging technology solutions to address challenges like education, employment, or agriculture.

ABOUT THE PROFILES

This publication features profiles of companies participating in Resilient 100 in order to share and facilitate connections with impact investors, development finance institutions, and other RIN capital partners. Each profile includes a brief description of the company and contact information. When available, we have included some data on the company to provide a sense of the company’s size and stage. Please note that all information on the company profiles are self-reported (as of August 2022) and have not been independently verified.

For select companies, we have also highlighted their investment needs and how that investment will benefit refugee communities. This information is meant to be illustrative of the investment opportunity, not a definitive assessment. We expect interested parties to conduct their own due diligence.

We encourage you to get in touch with the entrepreneur to learn more about their business. Please reach out to RIN and we can facilitate a connection.

TRIBAL TEXTILES ZAMBIA LTD

Kirstie Selfe, Managing Director

Background: Tribal Textiles is a home decor company based in Zambia, with strong retail trade through tourism and steady export and wholesale trade globally, including on the UNHCR’s Made51 platform. Tribal Textiles works to create sustainable impact through creativity and craftsmanship by going beyond fair wages, reinvesting 5% of each purchase in community-strengthening initiatives supporting local wildlife conservation efforts.

Investment Opportunity: Tribal Textiles is looking for investment in training and equipment to allow for the creation of a new recycling center and product range focused on upcycling, repurposing, and recycling. Tribal Textiles seeks funding for equipment, access to training and design, and introduction to new markets.

Potential Refugee Impact: Tribal Textiles improves the employment, welfare, and educational and professional development of local refugee communities by creating year-round work opportunities in a traditionally seasonal local economy.

PROTECTYL ECO-HOMES LTD

Tusiime Kenneth, Founding CEO

Country: Uganda
Sector: Construction Homes, Flooring

Background: Protectyl Eco-Homes improves home safety by providing affordable, modular flooring made by bio-plastic waste and building rent-to-own modular eco-homes. In addition, Protectyl Eco-Homes builds renewable energy solutions for low-income populations in Uganda and supports refugee-led small businesses to become carbon neutral by measuring carbon emissions.

Investment Opportunity: Protectyl seeks a $50K investment to purchase machinery, establish partnerships for distribution channels and product development. This investment will enable Protectyl to reach a production capacity of 1,000 tiles per day and to cover over 1,000 floors for refugees and rural households, thus improving their health and productivity.

Potential Refugee Impact: Refugees in Uganda are the most affected by the unsafe housing conditions like dirt floors. Investing in Protectyl Eco-Homes addresses this challenge and enables refugees to have access to affordable housing improvements. Protectyl Eco-Homes aims to create more employment opportunities for refugee youth and women through expanded operations.
THE PORTICO LTD

Timothy Mwogeza, Managing Director

Background: The Portico Ltd produces biodiesel, soap, and briquettes with the goal of becoming a key producer and supplier of renewable energy products in the East African Region and transforming the rural community in Uganda. Portico plants oilseed-bearing trees and sets up agro-processing sites to enable rural farmers to access value addition services and income-generating opportunities. They also create value for waste by purchasing waste from refugee and host communities, which is converted into renewable energy products.

Investment Opportunity: Portico seeks $25K to $1.5M to increase production capacity and efficiency. They would like to improve sourcing by establishing more agro-processing sites and securing additional transport trucks.

Potential Refugee Impact: Portico creates employment opportunities and purchases goods and services from the local refugee community. Increased production capacity and efficiency will also expand refugees' access to products by reducing costs.

* Raw materials and supplies from at least 7 refugee-owned businesses; 3 refugee distributors of briquettes; repair & maintenance services from at least 6 refugees.

Background: Patapia is a social enterprise providing vulnerable groups, particularly refugee women access to opportunities that significantly improve their economic opportunities and quality of life through a graduation approach. They train refugee women and give them the support to start and grow a business, including access to friendly financing. Patapia recently participated in the RIN-Acumen Accelerator for Ventures Serving Displaced People, where they worked on redesigning their model to scale into the refugee settlements, and won the $25,000-prize.

Investment Opportunity: Patapia is seeking $60K, which will be used to set up a digital literacy and business training facility. The investment will also be used to finance at least 250 women.

Potential Refugee Impact: Patapia improves refugee women’s economic opportunities and quality of life. They address a common challenge refugees face to creating sustainable livelihoods: lack of skills and access to financing. Patapia enables refugees to access financing through a model of collective accountability.
RESILIENT 100 EVENTS

In addition to having access to Silver Lining’s SLAP program and monthly calls with strategists, Resilient 100 participants have had a chance to get together with their peers, industry experts, and RIN partners to expand their knowledge and networks. In addition to regional meet-ups, here is a sample of events hosted by RIN for Resilient 100 over the past year:

An overview of RIN’s Refugee Lens Investing framework and a conversation with panelists who have tapped into new pools of capital and growth opportunities as refugee-lens enterprises.

Refugee Entrepreneurship Showcase
Entrepreneurs from the Resilient 100 program shared their experiences leading refugee lens enterprises in Turkey, Uganda, and Germany and offered lessons learned in refugee self-reliance.

Workshop: Growing a Refugee-Lens Creative Brand
